

Scaling Jurisdictional Approaches in the Indonesian Palm Oil Sector

The Scaling Jurisdictional Approaches in the Indonesian Palm Oil Sector research project was aimed at enhancing the readiness of selected palm oil producing regions to implement jurisdictional programmes (JPs) for sustainable palm oil through a participatory, multistakeholder and gender-inclusive approach drawing on lessons learned from JPs carried out by CIFOR-ICRAF and other parties.

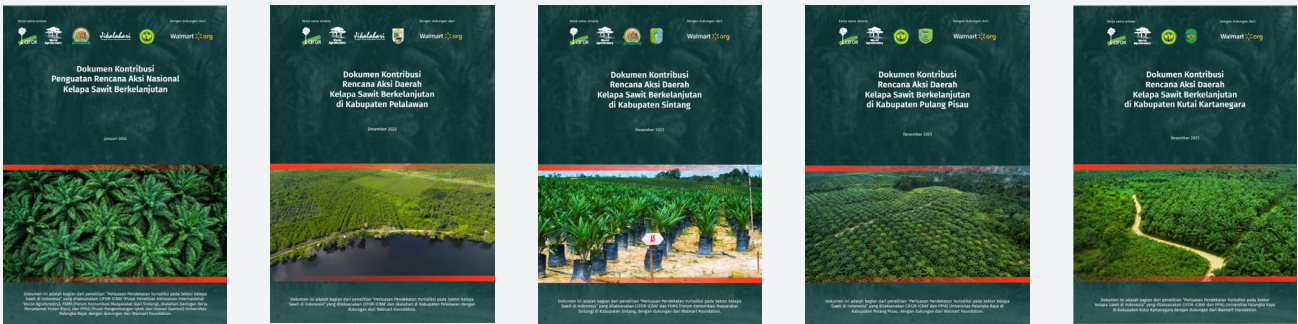

Visit the project website

<https://www.cifor-icraf.org/project/scaling-ja-palmoil/>

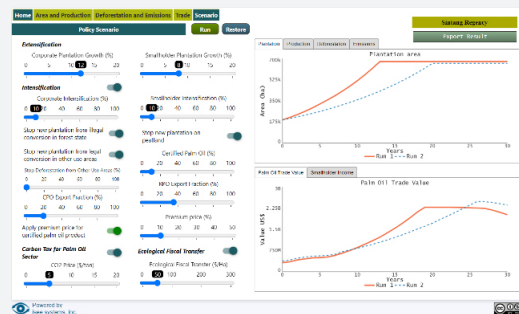

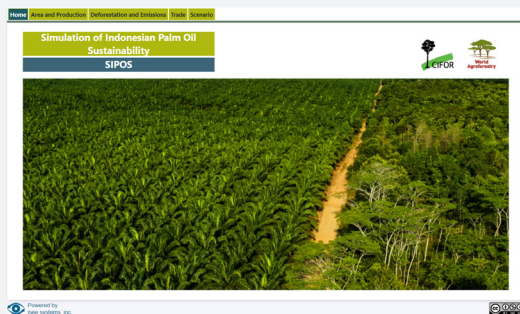

Supported by Walmart Foundation USA, the research project was implemented by CIFOR-ICRAF and partners: the University of Palangka Raya, Jikalahari and FKMS (Forum Komunikasi Masyarakat Sintang), from January 2020 to September 2024.

Find out more on project outputs and outcomes from our website

Contributing documents

Policy recommendations for sustainable palm oil action plans at the national and sub-national levels prepared through multistakeholder processes.

Tools

JAPOS (Jurisdictional Approach for Palm Oil Simulation) and SIPOS (Simulation of Indonesian Palm Oil Sustainability) value chain dynamics approach-based interactive modelling tools for simulating the impacts of sustainable palm oil production and trade policies at the national and sub-national levels. Tutorial videos and modules are available.

Other publications

Briefs, papers and other knowledge materials from the project.

Contacts

Sonya Dyah (CIFOR-ICRAF)
s.dyah@cifor-icraf.org

Dyah Puspitaloka (CIFOR-ICRAF)
d.puspitaloka@cifor-icraf.org

Collaborating partners:

Supporting partner:

